

THE BLUE NEWS

ABOUT THE BAND

---

The Blue News is an American indie rock band formed in 2006 by singer-songwriter and musician James Orndorff of Terre Haute, Indiana. Drummer and producer Dustin Richardson joined the band in 2008. The style of the band's music is influenced by the blues, classic rock, 90s rock and more. The band's unique brand of music fuses catchy guitar riffs, soulful vocals and hard-hitting drums - all coming together to create raw rock and roll energy. In reviews, the band's rock and roll sound has been compared to The Black Keys, Soundgarden, The White Stripes and even the legendary Led Zeppelin.

In 2007, two songs by the band were placed in the television series Road Trip Nation, giving the band their first national media exposure. Their first placement was followed by several high-profile song placements for television, video games and film - including the Netflix series Bloodline and the video game Rebel Galaxy.

Songs by The Blue News reached over 1,000,000 streams in 2019 on Spotify and YouTube combined. The Blue News continues working on new music and collaborating with musicians in the studio. The band will self-release "Feel Alright" on Friday, March 4 2022.

MUSIC HIGHLIGHTS

---

1,000,000 streams on Spotify and YouTube combined.

238k streams for single "Stay Gone For Good" from the album Wartime Songs (2011)

180k streams on Spotify for single "Promiseland" from the album Strange Light (2008).

Recent studio demos posted on SoundCloud reached over 40k streams in 1st month.

5k+ monthly listeners on Spotify, Pandora Radio and Amazon Music.

James and Dustin

@blamerecords

@the.blue.news

@thebluenewsmusic

Contact: James 812-244-9215 // Email - bluenewsband@yahoo.com // www.bluenewsband.com